ELECTRICITY FOR LIGHTING

Is only expensive to people who are wasteful and careless. To you who are naturally careful, it does not come high.

It is economical because it can be quickly turned off when not needed. With gas or kerosene there is the temptation to let light burn when not needed to save both of lighting and adjusting. In some homes the electric light bills amount to only one or two dollars per month. You can probably get some kind of artificial light for less money than electric light, but does it save you anything when it limits opportunities for work and recreation—ruins your eyesight—smokes your walls—mars decorations and increases household work. You could probably save dollars tomorrow by going without your meals but it wouldn't be economy. It is not so much what you save, but how you save that counts.

CAN'T HOLD UP CLAIMS

SUPREME COURT MAKES RULING IN OREGON CASE.

Secretary Must Pass on Entries Within Two Years When Receipt Has Been Issued.

Under a decision rendered Wednesday by Judge Anderson, of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, the Secretary of the Interior will not hereafter be permitted to hold up indefinitely land entries against which specific charges are not pending, but whenever a receiver's receipt has been issued, must pass upon the issuance of patent within two years.

This decision was handed down in the case of the Grand Rapids Timber Company vs. Secretary of the Interior, the timber company having purchased several Siletz entries in Oregon in 1902. In the Fall of that year a special agent of the Land Office reported that there was reason to believe this particular land was not taken in good faith by the homesteaders, but no evidence to sustain this suspicion was presented. Nevertheless the department has since refused to issue patent.

Secretary Can't Hold Up Claims.

Recently the Secretary of the Interior directed the cancellation of these particular entries and the Grand Rapids Company, an innocent purchaser, through Attorneys Duane E. Fox and Franklin Boughton Fox, of this city, filed suit for injunction to prevent cancellation, asserting that no protest had been made against the entries within two years as required by the act of March 3, 1881, for the special agent's report, while made within two years from the issuance of the receiver's receipt, was not sufficient in law, in that it failed to show wherein the entries were made in violation of law.

The Secretary filed a demurrer, alleging that title to the land was in the United States, which cannot be sued, that the courts cannot interfere with the Secretary while the land remains unpatented and that the report of a special agent was filed within the meaning of the act, and that "if the argument in support of the Secretary's demurrer were allowed to prevail, the act of Congress would be without force or meaning." The demurrer was overruled.

Lafferty Loses; Will Appeal.

Judge Anderson also dismissed an injunction suit brought by A. W. Lafferty, of Portland, on behalf of Holmerson and 11 other Siletz entrymen. In 11 of these cases the receiver's receipts had not been issued as required by the act of March 3, 1891. This action leaves the Secretary of the Interior at liberty to cancel the entries in question if, in his judgment, the evidence warrants.

"We have already wired money to Washington to appeal these cases," said A. W. Lafferty last night. "I am at a loss to understand why or through what manner of reasoning any such decision ever was handed down. In the first place no question arose as to the validity of the claims within the time limit, upheld in the decision quoted in the Grand Rapids cases. The only point then involved was as to the work done on the claims. The Government asserts that a sufficient amount of work was not done to establish the sincerity of the settlers. That would be impossible in the specific cases. The timber is very heavy and though they are classed as homesteaders they are nothing less than timber claims."

PRINCIPLES FIRST

Republican Party Stands for More Than Mere Office-Seeking.

DALLAS, Or., July 6.—(To the Editor.)—Will you kindly permit an observation or two from one who claims to be a Republican, by virtue of having voted that ticket consistently from the date of the Hayes-Tilden campaign to the present day, freely and loyally; who has never been tainted with Populism or any of its fads, except that for years I have been an advocate of the Direct Primary, but never expected it to supersede party councils or conventions. (I prefer the old-fashioned word to the modern assembly.)

It is true that in former times, when the convention was the last party word, cliques sometimes dominated them and forced objectionable candidates upon the party. This direct primary was intended to remedy, if an aspirant for office thinks he is double-crossed in the convention, there is no law to prevent his going before his party at the primary with his petition. He does not lose his party standing, and if he can defeat the convention or assembly choice he has the right to go upon the ticket, not as an independent, but as the regular nominee of the party, entitled to support as such, and would receive it, because in that event he would be a majority and not a mere plurality candidate. This fact will make conventions careful, and only such men will be named whose records can bear the scrutiny of a closely contested campaign.

All this talk about undoing the primary is simply twaddle put forth by two classes of people: One that would move heaven and earth to defeat and destroy the Republican party organization; the other composed of office-hungry individuals who are afraid to submit their claims to the representatives of the party in council.

Scratch an anti-assembly man, and you lay bare either a Democrat, a State One'er, or that odd combination, the so-called Chamberlain-Bourne Republicans. The first is honest, sometimes—the others are deluded souls.

The Republican party of this state stands for certain principles of government, and does not exist merely to keep some one in office.

FINANCES OF SCHOOLS

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT SEYMOUR SUBMITS ANNUAL REPORT.

After Paying All Expenses, Over $32,000 in Cash Remains in County Treasury.

County School Superintendent H. C. Seymour, of Polk County, was the first superintendent in Oregon to forward his annual report to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction last year. The Polk County official would have enjoyed this distinction again this year had it not been for the delay caused by one school failing to send in its report on time. This failure to report promptly made it impossible for the Superintendent to forward his report until Tuesday of this week—a delay which he greatly regrets, although Polk is even now one of the earliest schools in the state to report.

The estimated value of school houses and grounds in the county is $30,050, and insurance is carried to the amount of $56,950. The value of all school furniture and apparatus is $18,205.

The average salary of male teachers is $35.70, and of female teachers, $43.35.

A Fellow Feeling May Win.

The Orchard county petition has been filed, and there will be about nine county division schemes to come before the people of the state in November. The chances are that all will carry, as there is a fellow feeling among divisionists—every fellow feeling for an office.—Weston Leader.
